The image shows a 'Welcome' sign-in page for Oxford University Press. At the top is a user icon. Below it, the 'Username' field (with a note 'this is usually your email address') contains 'mparedes@mail.com'. The 'Password' field is masked with dots. A link for 'Forgotten your password?' is present. A blue 'Sign in' button is below the password field. At the bottom, there is a link to 'Register for an account' and two social login options: 'Continue with Google' and 'Continue with Microsoft'.

En éste punto, el sistema le pedirá actualizar su cuenta, marque en el recuadro para aceptar y haga clic en “Update my account”

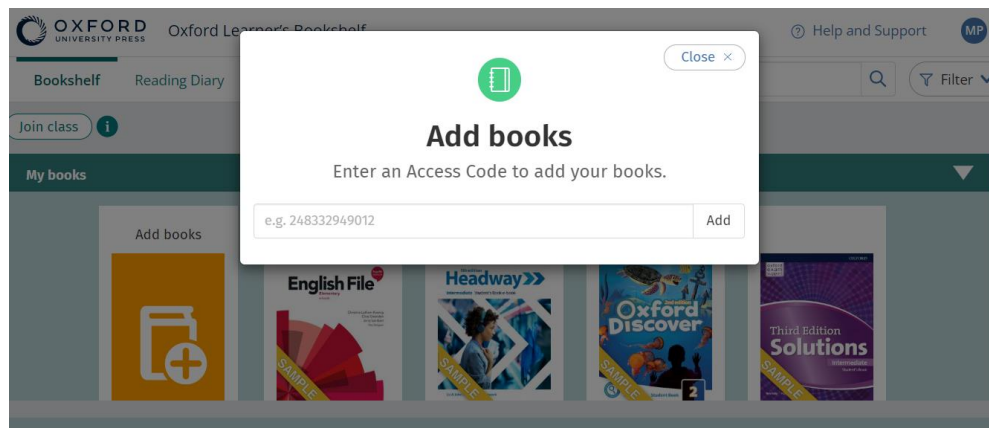

The image shows a modal dialog titled 'Hi María, please update your account' from Oxford University Press. It asks the user to 'Please agree to the terms and conditions'. Under the 'My Profile' section, there is a 'Terms and Conditions' section with a checked checkbox and the text: 'I agree to the terms and conditions and, if I am 16 or under, I have obtained permission to agree from a parent or guardian.' Below this, there is a link to the 'privacy policy' and a statement: 'Our privacy policy sets out how Oxford University Press handles your personal information, and your rights to object to your personal information being used for marketing to you or being processed as part of our business activities.' Another statement follows: 'We will only use your personal information for providing you with this service.' At the bottom is a blue 'Update my account' button. The background shows a 'Bookshelf' interface with a 'Close' button and a 'Filter' dropdown.
